

PARADOX III

THIRD MILLENNIUM HABITATS - INTEGRATING COMMUNITY, VIRTUALITY, AND NATURE

Join leaders in green development, urban design, cyberspace, new community models and transmodern culture for a full weekend of interdisciplinary panel discussions, special presentations, music and entertainment. Arcosanti, Paolo Soleri's prototype arcology in the Arizona Desert is the setting for this visionary summit in the first year of the third millennium.

Enjoy Café at Arcosanti cuisine - and the enriching experience of Arcosanti, located in the high desert 65 miles north of Phoenix, Arizona - while participating in one of the most vital visionary summits of 2001!

REGISTRATION - Limited to 300 attendees. The fee of $195.00 ($295 after August 15) includes all panels, performances, activities and refreshments. Cafe at Arcosanti cuisine is available for a package price of $60 for 6 meals, or on a per-meal basis.

Contact Verbum 415-865-0481 or Arcosanti 520-632-7135 to register by phone with credit card, or go to <http://www.arcosanti.org/paradox>.

presenters include:

Janine Benyus • William D. Browning • Marilyn Ferguson • Joe Firmage • Jim Fournier • Jon Jerde • Mark Lehner • John Picard • Paul Ray • Paolo Soleri • Rick Tarnas • Fiorella Terenzi

topics include:

Third Millennium Cities • Green Development
Ancient Egypt and Today • Reinventing
Community • Transmodern Culture
Biomimicry • Alternative Energy Technologies
Cyberspace and Urban Design

SEPTEMBER 21-23, 2001 ARCOSANTI, ARIZONA

Presented by: The Cosanti Foundation, The Jerde Partnership International and Verbum. Co-directors Michael Gosney (mig@verbum.com) and Ron Anastasia (rjon@direpc.com)
www.arcosanti.org/paradox